Dear Patty,

Thank you from the bottom of my heart for sharing your inspiring, ongoing support of our military troops during this year's Cultural Summit. Your exciting story is a perfect example of the contagious spirit sparked by our Keller Williams culture in action, and we were indeed honored to feature you and Wendy during our gathering.

It thrills me beyond words to imagine the joy created by the arrival of mail calls, base packages from the L.A. Harbor team and its surrounding community. Our military men and women fighting for our freedoms far from family and friends could actually hold your support in their hands and feel it in their hearts, and I cannot even begin to fathom the positive power created by your loving kindness.

We welcome you as one of our 2012 Cultural Ambassadors as you exemplify
